HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medically termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.
Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

Those who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.
The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigation of its true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit these well known remedies—

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Prepared by DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.
These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,
Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.
There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,
And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, and make them survive a measure the surgery and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.
It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, never feel well. They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.
To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN,
Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.
Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.
HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:
Philadelphia, March 18, 1757.
"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases arising from debility, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action.
Yours, truly, in the system.
"GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.
"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear conviction of the merits of my own family, of the inestimable value of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In many cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL.
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.
I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.
Yours truly,
E. D. FENDALL.

Communication.

MR. EDITOR:—Did you ever take a trip on the Broad Top Railroad, as far as Marklesburg, then travel to the left through Savage Forge, Paradise Furnace, Newberg and Eagle Foundry to Broad Top City? If you didn't, I did. If you wish to see rugged country make the trip in winter. If you prefer a pleasant ride and picturesque scenery take the summer. Along this route the first place worthy of note is Savage Forge; the country surrounding is rough and quality of soil poor. At the Forge, what a lonely spot! A dozen of dilapidated log tenements—but one has inmates. Who could have foretold at the time the sound of the forge hammer reverberated from hill top to hill top, when business was liveliest, that it would now be the neglected, forgotten spot it is? After noting in a diary that the once Savage Forge was a savage looking place I proceeded up the hills and down the slopes, over the drifts and through the hollows to Paradise Furnace. I had formed in my opinion that this place was a spot among the beautiful—perhaps, owing to the name. But, alas! the disappointment at my arrival. Rocks sprang up in defiance of the lofty tree tops, as if they too were eager to advance. Looking to the north, there were hills; to the south, there were hills; to the east, there were hills; to the west, there were hills. Hills on every side elevating their snowy caps heavenward. In fact, the place was founded on a hill. The blast of the furnace was silent—the dwellings were tenantless. Everything seemed to have forsaken the place. Indeed it was forsaken. I jogged along thinking,

"A great big house and nobody living in it,"—

A lot of little houses and nobody there.

I soon arrived at Newberg. If you had have been with me you would have declared—no doubt—that this place was so new that it had not reached maturity, or else so old it was on the decline. A small village of small and old buildings constitute Newberg—more appropriately Old-berg. Here I enjoyed the hospitality of a friend, over night, which caused me to become so exultant as to give vent to my feelings with the poetical expression,

Happy, happy man, I must say,
Always finding a place to stay.

With the dawn of day I continued my journey. Leaving as I left burning Sodom, possessing no desire to look back. After traveling some distance, the country assumed a different appearance. There were to be seen a number of fine farm buildings and very excellent farms, perhaps not equaled only in the richer valleys of the county. Eagle Foundry was the next place through which I passed. This place has been of "Horse Rake" notoriety, as a great number have been introduced throughout the different counties by Messrs. Scott and Amos, during the last three or four years. I wouldn't fancy settling in that place for life. Yet, there are some clever people who have a great attachment to the place and think,

"There is no place like home."

They prefer that place among the hills to one more level and of a more genial clime. But on I go, wending my way to the mountain, through some of the country where a heavy crop of "pennyroyal" is turned down that a crop of briers may be ready for the approaching harvest. A gentleman informed me a portion of the country was so poor that whippoorwills fly over it without noticing it, "killdeers" carry provision with them and "bumblebees" crawl very cautiously up the mullen stalks with great tears in their eyes and gaze very wishfully at the passers by. Broad Top City was reached ere darkness overtook me, where I refreshed myself until next day, when I took a conveyance to Dudley. Arrived safely and was soon behind the "Iron Horse" for Cove Station, to take another trip over another mountain to Martinsburg, of which I may write you again.

Thine, &c.,
WM. H. FLENNER.

POISONED BEER.—Beer in England, years ago, used to be regarded as a very healthy beverage, but of late it has been discovered that the beer used in most of the common drinking places is adulterated. Statistics show that drunkenness has largely increased, and thousands had died from indulging freely in beer drinking. Evidence taken before committees engaged in examining into the adulteration of malt liquors, established the fact that it was the custom to adulterate beer. The English press is indignant over the discovery that the great national beverage, which is food and drink for the tillers and toilers of England, should be found systematically poisoned. The investigation showed that, among the ingredients put in liquors, were coculus indicus, grains of paradise, and copperas, the latter being nothing less than green vitriol. Beer houses have been regarded everywhere as the great curse of the country; but a much greater curse was the stuff sold in them. In this city it has been discovered that a large amount of the stuff sold for lager beer is a compound of the vilest ingredients. In many cases persons who have been in the frequent habit of drinking it at low places have found their health impaired, and have prematurely died. Pure beer is undoubtedly an invigorating beverage. The inhabitants of Germany are mostly robust people; but then it must be remembered that their beer was pure, which cannot be said of the swill sold in many places in this city. Lager has become a popular beverage in this city. How is the evil to be reached, is a subject that should engage the attention of the Health Board.—New York Paper.

Parental Influence.

How often do we find parents weeping over the dissolute habits of a beloved son, and wondering how their child could ever have fallen into such evil habits! Yet, if they go back and examine their actions and conduct in the presence of and toward that son, too many a parent will find, with bitter agony, that he himself has furnished a ruinous example to his own child. Has he not himself, from time to time, at the invitation of a friend, or on convivial occasion, been induced to take his social glass? Has he not lent the aid of his name and character to enable that tavern-keeper to procure a license to sell liquor? Has he not offered wines or other liquors, to his guests, at his own house, on the occasion of some social entertainment or New Year's day anniversary? Has he not withheld his name and influence from the great temperance reformation, and by thus standing aloof in fact opposing this benign element of regeneration to drunken humanity? If so, he may be assured that he has furnished a terrible example to lure his own child on to its destruction.—That son will not think it wrong to take his social glass with a friend after seeing his father do so; and that very tavern for which the influence of that father had procured a license, may become a "gate of hell" to his ruined son. At the social board, in his own home, that mother may pour out for her own son his first glass, and may kindle in his bosom that terrible passion whose devouring flames will blast and destroy the happiness of herself and son forever. An awful responsibility does indeed rest upon that parent who, either by example or otherwise, countenances habits in his child which will probably end in intemperance.

We often, too, hear fathers mourning over the dissipation of their sons, and averring that they would be ready to lay down their lives if it would effect the reformation of their children. They no doubt pray anxiously that their sons may become members of some temperance society; and yet, do they belong to any such society themselves? Have they ever done anything to advance the interests of the temperance cause? Have they not rather, by declining to become connected with such associations, furnished an example to their own children and others to decline also? To them, then, we would say, join first yourselves. Your names and influence may not only be the means of saving your own sons, but may help to give freedom and happiness to thousands of others who groan under the thralldom of intemperance. Do not hope and expect that others will labor amid contumely and reproach, for the benefit of your sons, while you yourselves are virtually opposing their efforts, and lending your countenance to those who are sneering at the benevolent enterprise of temperance men.—Phrenological Journal.

☞ A REMARKABLE TREE.—It would seem as if nature, having finished the rest of the world in an orderly and sedate frame of mind, gave way to her frolicsome tendencies in Australia. Can anything be more essentially ludicrous than a kangaroo, or a tree which sheds its bark instead of its leaves? Australia is the farce of creation. But amid all its oddities we now and then find specimens of the useful and magnificent. Among them is the Eucalyptus, a remarkable tree, which attains the height of five hundred feet, thus reaching dimensions which enable it literally to throw into the shade the far-famed gigantic trees of California. But as it to vindicate its native Australian right to be peculiar, it combines what has never before been known to unite in a tree—great rapidity of growth and great compactness of fibre, which give it a great economical value for mechanical purposes, and make it invaluable as a means of restoring the forest growth in those regions which have been denuded of it. It has another peculiarity, which makes it still more available for the latter purpose, which is its adaptation to the arid and waterless portions of the globe in warm climates.

A tree planted in Algiers fifteen years ago has attained the volume and the qualities of an oak a hundred years old, and from a tree planted three years ago has sprung a tree now four feet in circumference at the base. It is now being introduced in Italy upon the bare summits and mountain ridges, and as its leaves exhale a delightful fragrance and exercise a powerful antimiasmatic influence, perhaps it may counteract and drive back the deadly blight which has for centuries been creeping up from the Pontine marshes upon the "Eternal City," and has made a desert of busy Roman life and the site of gorgeous palatial villas.

We must not omit to add that the bark of this remarkable tree is very hard and very rich in tanning. We hope some enterprising horticulturist will introduce the tree into this country. What a magnificent tree it would be for our streets—towering hundreds of feet above our houses and shedding upon the whole air the coolness of its shade and the sweetness of its perfume.

☞ "Come here, sissy," said a young gentleman to a little girl to whose sister he was paying his addresses; "you are the sweetest thing on earth."
"No, I ain't," she replied. "Sister says you are the sweetest."
The gentleman popped the question the next day.

☞ "Oh, for a thousand tongues!" as the urchin remarked when he took hold out of a barber pole for a mammoth mintstick.

The Globe.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday morning, Feb. 10, 1869.

WM. LEWIS, HUGH LINDSAY, } EDITORS.

The "Globe" has the largest number of readers of any other paper published in the county. Advertisers should remember this.

☞The credentials of the Hon. John Scott, Pennsylvania's new Senator, are engrossed on a sheet of paper large enough to embrace Mecator's projection of the globe, and with the big seal of the Keystone State make a truly formidable document.

☞We announced in our last number that the House had passed the Constitutional amendment in relation to negro suffrage. The Senate still has an amendment under consideration and will probably come to a vote some day this week.

☞The President has directed the Attorney General to make a report in the case of Dr. Mudd, as preliminary to a pardon. The friends of Mudd say they have no doubt he will be soon set at liberty. The belief is based on what the President told them.

☞The Sub-Committee on Reconstruction, which has charge of the subject of deciding upon those who are entitled to have their political disabilities removed, have determined to embody them all in one bill making in all several hundred persons, representing all the reconstructed States.

☞It must be gratifying to the Directors of the county, and all connected with the management of the Poor House affairs, to know that their report gives more general satisfaction than any previously made. The reader of the statements published by the Directors will discover that money is saved by having business conducted properly.

INCOME RETURNS.—Assistant Assessors will soon call upon our citizens for their Income and Special Taxes for the year 1869. By the amendatory act of March 2, 1867, all returns of incomes and special taxes are required to be made by the first day of March, under a penalty of fifty per cent. additional. This is two months earlier than in former years.

☞The Editorial Convention met at Harrisburg on Tuesday last, and was well represented. A number of resolutions were passed but a greater number were laid on the table. A resolution recommending an amendment to the present State law of libel as will admit of the truth being given in evidence was adopted; also that a committee be appointed to report a scale of prices for advertising.

☞The electoral vote for President and Vice President, will be counted on the second Wednesday, the 10th of February, at one o'clock, in the chamber of the House of Representatives, in the presence of the Senate, with the President of the Senate in the chair. The presiding officer, Mr. Wade, opens the envelopes and reads the vote, and the tellers record it. After the vote is announced, a certificate thereof will be sent to the successful candidates, Grant and Colfax.

☞Gen. Grant does not hesitate to declare his opposition to the lobby to all his friends: some of the latter assert that he says decidedly he will not put patronage in the hands of such Congressmen as lend themselves to the various jobs now before the two Houses. All the influence he can exert upon those who visit him is thrown constantly and earnestly against all schemes by which the lobby, aided by corrupt officials, are trying to get as much of the money in Treasury as possible before the Fourth of March.

☞It is stated that almost universally the individual sentiment of Congress is opposed to the ratification of the protocol of the Alabama treaty, in the form in which it now exists, and that there can be no doubt that this feeling will find legislative expression when the time comes, and there will be a non-concurrence in the treaty stipulations so far as the English counter claims to our demands are concerned. The few stray words of Gen. Grant a few days ago, that it was not a mere question of dollars and cents for a few ships burned, but a question of the destruction of our commerce, met with hearty approval everywhere.

Democratic Candidates for Governor.

There is quite a sprinkling of aspirants for the empty honor of a Democratic nomination for Governor.—Among the number we find Gen. Geo. W. Cass, of Pittsburgh; Gen. McCandless, of Philadelphia, and Hon. Asa Packer of Carbon County. Heister Clymer, Coffee-pot Wallace, have also been named but Wallace and Clymer decline to be set up to be knocked down like men of straw. Gen. Hancock declares that he will never again meddle with politics as long as he is in the army. The contest will be between Cass and Packer, as the matter stands at present.

Vice President Colfax is said to be the happiest man in the nation.—Young, healthy, with a blooming wife, he feels sure of the future, and his "star" is on the rise.

How Democrats Elect their Judges in Philadelphia.

A special dispatch from Harrisburg to the Philadelphia Evening Telegragh, says that on the 5th inst., facts were elicited which effectually dispose of the contest between Judges Thayer and Greenbank for the seat upon the bench of the District Court of Philadelphia. On opening the ballot box of the Sixteenth division of the Twentieth ward, before the committee of the Legislature entrusted with the settlement of the contest, a specimen of the most ridiculous blundering, or else one of the most unparalleled frauds yet detected, was brought to light.—On counting the ballots and comparing the result with the count made by the election officers, the following facts were disclosed:—

The actual count showed:—
Votes cast for Thayer	283
" " Greenbank	270
Thayer's true majority	13
The return of the election officers alleged that the vote stood:—
For Thayer	244
" Greenbank	310
Greenbank's fraudulent majority	66
Add Thayer's true majority	13
Thayer's gain	79

This gain of 79 votes by Judge Thayer, with the mistake previously corrected and admitted by Greenbank's counsel, elects the former.

Meeting of the Union Republican State Central Committee.

In pursuance of the call of the Chairman, the Union Republican State Central Committee assembled at the Lochiel Hotel, Harrisburg, on Thursday, February 4th, 1869, there being a very large attendance of its members. After a full interchange of opinions, the following resolutions were adopted, viz:

Resolved, That the next Union Republican State Convention shall be held in the city of Philadelphia on Wednesday, the 23d day of June next at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor and Judge of the Supreme Court.

Resolved, That this Committee earnestly recommend the adoption of a proper Metropolitan Police bill, and request the Republican members of the Legislature to give to the measure an earnest and vigorous support.

On motion of Mr. Miller, of Crawford, and Mr. Billingfelt, of Lancaster, the following preamble and resolution were adopted, viz:

WHEREAS, Vigorous economy has been made a cardinal principle of the Republican party; therefore,

Resolved, That we do sincerely desire that all persons occupying an official position shall have a due respect for the same in all their actions, believing that the future success of our party depends largely upon the strict observance of that principle.

G. A. GROW, Chairman.
GEO. W. HAMERSLY, Sec'y.

☞We have never read of a more dreadful instance of the effects of an ungovered temper than happened at Pittsburg, on Saturday last. A little boy named Miller, aged about seven years, was shot in the back by a German barber, named Kauffman, and died in a few minutes. The barber shop is situated under the St. Lawrence Hotel, in the cellar, and the little fellow, with other boys, had iran down the steps and annoyed the barber by darkening his shop, when he chased them away. Miller returned, when he deliberately raised a pistol and shot through the window, the ball taking effect in the little boy's back.—Kauffman has been arrested and held for trial. How painful to think of the effects of an uncontrolled passion.—Here, a man surrenders himself to his frenzy and strikes down an innocent boy, for a trivial offence. It shows the great importance of keeping the angry passions in check, and is a warning to all who have not yet learned self-possession.

Accident to Hon. Galusha A. Grow.

A passenger train on the Lacka wanna and Bloomsburg Railroad ran off the track at Beach Haven on Friday last. Hon. Galusha A. Grow, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, was severely burned, but his injuries are not of a serious character. He was on his way to his home in Susquehanna county, from Harrisburg, where he had just attended a meeting of the State Central Committee. The rear car of the train was thrown down the embankment 10 feet in height, and made a complete revolution. The stove broke from its fastening and set the car on fire.

Mr. Grow was warming his feet at the stove, and had a narrow escape from being fatally burned. None of the passengers were seriously injured. Mr. Grow having suffered the most of any; his clothing being nearly burned from his person.

The Philadelphia Morning Post protests against the appointment of such good Republicans as Stanton, Greely, Motley, Boutwell and Sumner, as members of Grant's cabinet; they are not being wanted, and suggests that Grant should select dubious and suspicious patriots—gentlemen like Curtin, Raymond and Forney. Decidedly cool in the cases of Curtin and Forney.

Governor Geary issued warrants for the execution on February 26th of Brooks and Orme, the Delaware Water Gap murderers. Also for the execution of Gerald Eston, in Philadelphia, February 25th.

The Delaware Legislature divorced a "gentleman and lady of color" on Wednesday last. When the members discovered the "complexion" of the parties, they became panic-stricken and intensely horrified. Booh!

The Danbury Flood.

The Danbury (Conn.) Times has the following full account of the fearful calamity of last Sunday:

Just as the bells ceased to ring the people to their evening worship the most terrible calamity ever happening here took place. The dam of the upper Kohanzie reservoir gave way, and the immense body of water therein contained came sweeping down upon our unconscious citizens. Those who lived at the upper part of the town were startled by a sudden rushing, roaring sound, like the driving of a heavy gale of wind. Those in-doors could not understand it, as their buildings were not racked, as they would be in such a gale. Many left their houses and went out to listen better, and then they discovered before their very doors a boiling, mass of water. The water came upon the village though the gorge above Flint's dam, bringing with it huge masses of ice, and heavy masses of timber. It came with fearful velocity, striking the houses on Main street, near the river bank, and sweeping them from their foundation in an instant, it swept down the flats along the stream north and east of Main street, carrying destruction to everything in its reach, and bringing terror to all within its hearing. The total extent of the damage done cannot now be estimated. The amount of property lost cannot be less than $50,000, and will probably exceed that amount. The loss of life has been terrible. In the houses destroyed in the upper part of Main street there were fourteen persons. The terrible scenes and incidents of the night and this morning beggars description. The people have turned out in masses, and at this hour are going over the pathway of the calamity. The scene is now one of great desolation, especially on the site of the houses of those lost. Hardly a trace of where they stood is visible. One building is deposited a little way back, badly shattered, the other is a complete wreck, the larger portion lying just south of Patch street, and some distance below its foundations. The Main, North and White street bridges were destroyed, and the Patch street bridge so racked as to be unsafe to walk over. Chas. Chase's carriage manufactory, on North street, was demolished, being struck by the building removed on Main street. Sunderland's carpenter shop, on White street, was torn from its place. A horse, stabled at one end of the building, in some unaccountable way got out, and swimming to land, came off unharmed. The office and builder's hardware store of the Ives Brothers was flooded, and considerable damage done to the stock. Isaac W. Ives' lumber yard was also flooded, and a large lot of lumber swept down the stream, or thrown about the yard in confused heaps. Loss was also sustained by Stevens Bros. and A. Ely, carpenters; P. Robinson & Co., flour dealers; Hoyt & Co., hat manufacturers, and Bradley & Mansfield, livery stable keepers. Great cakes of ice, weighing a ton or more, were scattered along the course of the water in great profusion, fences were swept down, outhouses, sheds, &c., damaged, the number of which it is impossible now to ascertain, but which, together with many incidents of interest, will be given in the regular issue of the Times on Wednesday.

National and State Legislatures.

CONGRESS.

Monday.—In the Senate the bill transferring the Indian Bureau was reported from the committee, with the recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed. Adjourned.

In the House a joint resolution in reference to the admission of St. Domingo into the Union was laid on the table by a vote of 110 yeas to 62 nays.

The bill appropriating $30,000 for the relief of the poor of the District was passed. Adjourned.

Tuesday.—In the Senate a joint resolution was introduced proposing to submit to the Legislature of the several States for ratification two amendments to the Constitution, one regarding equal suffrage, the other rights of all citizens to hold office. Adjourned.

Wednesday.—In the Senate the constitutional amendment as passed in the House was concurred in. Adjourned.

Friday.—The constitutional amendment was taken up and discussed until 4 p. m., when a recess was taken. At 7 p. m., the Senate reassembled and discussed the constitutional amendment.

In the House a resolution was adopted, calling on the Secretary of War for information as to the progress made in the preparation and publication of official documents relating to the rebellion. A recess was then taken until 7 p. m., at which time the House reassembled and discussed the finance question.

LEGISLATURE.

Monday.—In the House resolutions in reference to the late Representative Geo. S. Thorn were adopted.

Tuesday.—A number of private bills were acted on in both Houses to-day.

Wednesday.—In the Senate Wien Forney was unanimously confirmed as State Librarian.

In the House a number of private bills were passed.

Thursday.—In the Senate a number of private bills were read in place. The joint resolution requesting our Representatives to oppose any law placing the telegraph operations of the United States under the control of the United States Government, was passed finally.

Friday.—In the Senate a number of bills were reported. In the House a number of petitions and bills were presented.

☞Col. Forney, who has just made a tour in the South, says the negroes are now working well, and with more profit to the planters than ever before; that the people of that section are now producing corn and wheat, and that it will soon be a self supporting region; that large cotton factories are being erected; that Northern men are actively engaging in business there; that great internal improvements are progressing; that common schools are being established, and the colored people are educating themselves and their children; and that many of the rebel newspapers have given up politics, and are laboring to aid in the work of reconstruction now going on. We are glad to hear, from such authority, so good reports from that section of the country.

WESTON AND HIS COUNTERFEIT.—On Saturday evening a fictitious Weston passed through the city of Burlington, Vt., clad in military uniform, and followed by three two-horse sleighs. A multitude of persons walked with him through the city, and left us amid the light of bon-fires, asserting that he would rest over Sunday in Swanton Falls, thirty-two miles distant. Sunday morning the genuine Weston came into the city, having walked from New Haven Centre, Addison county, to Burlington, a distance of thirty-two miles, before breakfast. The whole city was astonished. Mayor Ballou, who had paid his respects to the sham Weston, called on the real pedestrian at his hotel, and after a short conversation became satisfied that he had hold of the genuine article. The affair has created much indignation. It is said that the walkist was personated by two students of the Burlington College, who took turns in walking through the villages, and rode through the country in a sleigh.

The real Weston is now nearly two days behind time, and is much annoyed by the sham affair ahead of him. It is reported that the people of St. Albans have been humbugged in the same manner. Weston left here at 1.20, and will walk hence to Rouse's Point, New York., 535 miles from Bangor, before stopping. He is still confident of making up lost time. The young lady who followed the sham Weston twenty-two miles in a cutter, for the purpose of presenting him with a pair of woollen gloves of her own manufacture, is greatly mortified. Her brother threatens vengeance on the mischievous students.

Serious Indian troubles are reported in Alaska, our Polar possessions. A flag of defiance against the soldiers was raised at their village recently, and General Davis compelled them to surrender only by threatening to bombard the place. Another party of Indians tried to leave Sitka harbor in a canoe against orders and were fired upon by sentries, who killed or wounded seven of them.

The silver mines of Nevada are fabulously rich, but their location among the Humboldt mountains makes the cost of living excessive. Flour retails for $20 per 100 pounds; wood in the different camps from $15 to $30 per cord; water, from ten to thirty cents per gallon; meals, $1 to $1,50—very poor; place to sleep—floor, table, pine board, counter, or straw mattress—$1 to $5 per night. Water is carried on pack mules; wood in like manner.

Proceedings of the Town Council.

Stated meeting, February 5, 1869. The Council met. Present—Assistant Burgesses Messrs. Miller and Elliott; Council, Messrs. Artley, Black, Cunningham, Carmon, Hefright, Jackson and Port.

The minutes of the last stated meeting were read and approved.

The special committee appointed to settle with delinquent collectors was called upon for their report, when a motion was made to grant the committee further time, and on this motion the yeas and nays were demanded and were as follows:

YEAS—Artley, Black, and Miller, Chairmen—3.

NAYS—Carmon, Cunningham, Elliott, and Jackson—4.

So the motion was not agreed to. Messrs. Cunningham and Jackson moved that the committee shall be discharged from the further consideration of the subject, which was not agreed to.

A motion was made that the Council now proceed to make a settlement with the Collectors, whereupon the chair ruled the motion out of order upon the ground that the matter had been instructed to a special committee which the Council had refused to discharge.

Mr. Elliott moved that the committee be instructed to make final report at the next stated meeting, which was agreed to.

Mr. Miller, Chairman of the Building Committee, made report that the committee had met and in pursuance of instruction of the Council had conferred with Mr. Artley and others in relation to a plan for the Engine house and had a drawing of the same made; also, that he had negotiated the required loan.

On motion of Mr. Black and Mr. Cunningham, it was

Resolved, That as soon as the act now pending in the State Legislature, authorizing the contemplated loan is passed, the Chairman shall call a special meeting of the Council for the purpose of adopting measures for the immediate commencement of the work of building.

Bills were read and orders granted as follows:

David Grove for plank,	$19.00
Huntingdon Gas Co., gas for January,	21.00
J. S. Gorman, printing,	3.00

A communication of Saml. Brown, Esq., was read, asking permission to pile some building materials on Franklin street, south of Hill, when on motion the request was granted.

On motion of Mr. Black and Mr. Jackson it was

Resolved, That the acting Chief Burgess be and he is hereby instructed to advertise and sell for the best price that can be obtained, the house belonging to the borough, situated on the cemetery grounds.

On motion it was

Resolved, That the Burgesses be and they are hereby authorized and instructed to call upon Mr. U. B. Lewis and ascertain what action he has taken in the matter of procuring glass for the street lamps, and in case he has not made the necessary preparations to rescind the contract and to adopt such measures as to them may be deemed expedient to secure proper and prompt attention to the lamps.

Another Railroad Project

The Cumberland Civilian advocates the construction of a railroad from Cumberland to Bedford, 30 miles, and there to connect with the Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad, from Huntingdon to Harrisburg, thence over the Lebanon Valley Railroad to Allentown; thence by Easton and New Hampton to New York, over the New Jersey Central Railroad. The total distance of this route would be 359 miles, and the probable cost of construction would be $1,000,000. We hope to see this project taken hold of with a determination to put it through. There are none who doubt the practicability of a railroad from Mt Dallas to Cumberland, and the mystery to us is that capitalists do not turn their attention in that direction.

Despicable.

A few months since, our readers may remember, the Rev. Mr. Love, of Alexandria, Huntingdon county, at considerable expense and much trouble, brought a dozen fine lake or black bass from the Potomac, near Clear Spring, Md., and cast them into the Juniata river at Alexandria, with the view of ultimately breeding a supply of the above fine species of fish, to satisfy the demands of his friends and neighbors. We learn that recently a heartless Thug—an employee at the Juniata Iron Works—caught one of the finest of the lot, killing and cleaning it, and appropriating it to the use of his own table. Waltonians in the vicinity of Alexandria are justly indignant at the man for his desecration and vandalism.—State Guard.

Local Legislation.

In the House, on Friday Mr. Brown introduced a petition from citizens of Huntingdon County for a law to secure farmers and others from the loss of cattle, &c.

On Friday the 4th, supplement to an act to prevent fishing with sein and to protect bass fish in the Raystown branch of the Juniata river and its tributaries was reported back from committee; also the act to repeal the sixth section of an act for the protection of wild turkeys and squirrels in this county.

Enterprise Items.

Who will get the beautiful doll "CURRENCY," $15 00 or the barrel and a half of the best family flour?

The secret of success of Enterprise Headquarters would be worth a fortune to many business men, and economy in every family governed by the same rule.

Enterprise Headquarters and its customers are mutually benefitted, and the people are not slow to see it.

NANCY and her carringe—who will get it? It is the most ingenious and most beautiful toy in the county. It cost $5,00 and will be given away impartially on the first of March to a customer of Enterprise Headquarters.

A new supply of Syrups, Baking Molasses, Coffees, Sugars, Teas, Chocolates, etc., cheap, at Massey & Co's., and handsome presents in the bargain every month.

Dessicated Cocoanut for Pies, Puddings, Cakes, etc, for sale at the cheap Grocery of Massey & Co.

When presents are distributed at Enterprise Headquarters it is impossible to know who are to receive them until the numbered checks in the possession of customers are presented.—The person who distributes the presents does not know the number of a single card held by any person. The distribution is strictly impartial.

Landis Steel, three years of age, held the card that received the barrel of flour for January. The cards for the Sewing Machine, big Mintstick, and several other presents are somewhere in the country. Send them in.

A full assortment of fresh Spices, Baking Powders, Prunes, Raisins, Currants, Citron, Dried Peaches and Apples, Beans, Rice, Hominy, Barley, Oatmeal, etc., etc., just received by Massey & Co.

Country produce taken in exchange for Goods at Enterprise Headquarters.

☞ From the Army Hospital; the bloody battle-field, the mansion of the rich and the humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk; from the mountain-top, distant valley and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world, is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of Drake's Plantation Bitters. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office:

* * * * I have been in the Army Hospital for fourteen months, speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. Three bottles have made me a well man.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NO NAME.

It is a common thing now-a-days to hear persons complain about their physical disabilities which bring so much discomfort to both mind and body, that they find no gratification in anything around them. One has no satisfying rest at night, another is always peevish and despondent, still another takes no delight in society, and others again find no compensating pleasures in labor, exercise or even life. No name is given in apology for their ailments, nevertheless the cause are always present. They simply lack vital power, and Prof. Baker says that "the best remedy for this class is MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS," which he has used for several years, and with uniform success," as it tones the Stomach and Liver—the seat of the complaint—and reconstructs the shattered constitution. This vitalizing tonic speedily removes the cause of languor and discontent, imparts a calm force to the nervous system, rouses the dormant organs of the body, and blesses the sufferer with perfect and lasting health. feb3

Huntingdon, Feb. 1, 1869.

TERRIBLE DEATH.—An inquest was lately held in a miserable hovel in St. Sauvour, Canada, occupied by Oliver Cafrance, wood sawyer, who earned the pittance of eleven shillings a week, wherewith to support himself, his wife and four children. The poor fellow after partaking of a scanty breakfast was proceeding to a shipyard, when his wife remonstrated with him saying he was too ill. He replied "We have neither wood nor food, and you and the children must starve if I don't work. I must work though it kills me." He then called for his comrade sawyer to accompany him, and they began sawing logs as usual, but he was too feeble to proceed, and told Boldud he felt as if he was dying. He then rallied a little, and said it was necessary for his family's maintenance that he should work even though it were hard to do, and work he would or at least try it once more. But he was unequal to the effort, and turned to go home, saying he must not die in the cold. He had gone but a few steps when he fell and expired.

HOUSES FOR SALE and RENT.

The subscriber will receive bids for the purchase of the large

THREE-STORY BRICK BUILDING

in which he now resides, and which is also occupied as a Hardware Store, Masonic Lodge and Chapter, and by the Young Men's Christian Association.

It is in a central business location, is a fine and substantial structure, having cut stone foundation and steps, pressed brick front, slate roof, French plate glass, solid walnut sash, best style of finish inside, with elaborate mouldings, fine glossing and graining. Gas pipes to every apartment, and whole house arranged with a view to comfort and convenience. Excellent well of water and very large cistern with both pumps on the porch.

On the building is a handsome Observatory, giving a pleasant view of the town and country for miles around.

Altogether this is the most desirable and valuable property in Huntingdon, which is now one of the most pleasant and thrifty towns on the line of the Pennsylvania Rail Road.
